Product code: 5906302368082

EAN: 5906302368082

The Tech-Protect Sleeve laptop case is a practical solution designed for everyday protection. Intended for 15-16 inch laptops, it combines ease of use with functionality during transport.

The sturdy construction made of high-quality textile material guarantees long-lasting protection for the laptop against accidental impacts and abrasion. The thoughtfully designed interior with soft padding creates a safe space for the device, eliminating the risk of scratches during transport.

A distinguishing feature of the case is the spacious front pocket, which significantly increases the product's functionality. It allows for convenient storage of essential accessories such as a charger, cables, a wireless mouse, or a notebook. This way, all necessary items remain organized in one place.

The compact form without additional handles makes the case ideal as an insert for a larger bag or backpack, without unnecessarily increasing the volume of luggage. The subdued color scheme in graphite shade gives it a universal character, suitable for both work and study.
