Spigen Tough Armor MagSafe is an exceptionally sturdy case designed for maximum protection and full compatibility with the Apple MagSafe system. Equipped with an integrated magnetic ring, it allows for quick and secure wireless charging and the use of all MagSafe accessories – without the need to remove the case.

The case features a two-part construction: a flexible, abrasion-resistant thermoplastic polyurethane (TPU) absorbs shocks, while a hard polycarbonate frame reinforces the entire structure and protects against more serious damage. The interior of the case is additionally equipped with a technology foam that absorbs impact force, significantly increasing the device's resistance to drops.

Raised edges around the screen and camera protect them from scratches when placing the phone on flat surfaces. Precise cutouts and integrated buttons ensure that usage remains comfortable and hassle-free.

The case has passed durability tests from a height of 1.2 meters 26 times, achieving military certification MIL-STD 810G-516.6, confirming its protective effectiveness even in difficult conditions.
