Product code: 5906302333004

Tech-Protect Kevlar Cam+ is a rugged series of cases that will protect your device from all angles in any conditions. The case is designed based on an advanced hybrid construction, making it perfectly fitted and lightweight.

The two-part housing combines a hard armor that goes on the back, made of PC coating and shock-resistant TPU. Additional reinforcement in the corners - protective air cushions - effectively absorb every fall. The front of the device is surrounded by a frame with an integrated polycarbonate shield. This solution effectively separates the display, protecting it from scratches.

Raised edges protect the lens and display of your smartphone from damage, non-slip finish, and the ability to wirelessly charge are additional features that the Kevlar Cam+ is equipped with.

An important element to mention is the functional kickstand. The easy-to-use leg serves both as a stand - allowing you to position the phone vertically and horizontally - and as a finger holder, to securely hold the phone in your hand.

Additionally, the case is equipped with a practical camera cover. This protection prevents the risk of scratching and damaging the lens, which is essential for maintaining excellent photo and video quality.

The Kevlar Cam+ case has a military certification MLT-STD-810H, which means that the product has undergone specialized durability tests and meets strict user requirements.
