Supcase UB Grip Pro MagSafe is a rugged case that perfectly combines durability, functionality, and modern style. Made from impact-resistant TPU material, it features reinforced corners that effectively protect the device from drops according to military standard MIL-STD 810G (up to 15 feet). The case stands out with its raw, military design that emphasizes the character of the smartphone and protects it from scratches and everyday damage.

The case is fully compatible with MagSafe technology, allowing for fast wireless charging and stable attachment to magnetic accessories. The built-in MagSafe ring also acts as a grip and stand, enhancing user comfort while watching content or making video calls.

A unique feature of the Grip Pro model is the additional frame that attaches to the front of the device, equipped with an integrated screen protection layer. It provides full display protection without the need for a separate film or tempered glass.

The case has precisely made cutouts and buttons, and the ports are protected by caps that guard against dust and dirt. Despite its solid construction, the whole remains lightweight and easy to install thanks to its thoughtful two-part design.
